

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM MANY STATES

Important News Gathered from Abroad for the Benefit of Our Readers.

Snow fell in Pasadena, Cal., Friday for the first time in twenty years.

The Canadian Government has decided to stop immigration of negroes from the United States.

Gen. W. T. Cabell, former commander of the Trans-Mississippi Department of the United Confederate Veterans, died at Dallas, Texas.

It was announced at the headquarters of W. F. Sheehan, in Albany, yesterday, that he would not withdraw as a candidate for United States Senator from New York.

Miss Nettie Caskey, of Fairmont, Ind., was awarded a medal by President Taft for rescue of a child from death beneath the wheels of a locomotive near her home in March, 1910.

"Wild Bill" Hatfield, one time noted Kentucky feudist, shot and killed a Mexican rebel comrade at Mexicali during a quarrel. The victim was rolled across the border and the incident closed.

Franklin Pierce was denounced as a traitor to his country in the Legislature of his native State, New Hampshire. A proposal to erect a statue to his memory was rejected after a bitter debate.

The date for the opening of an extra session of Congress has been agreed on tentatively as March 15, indications all point to action by the present, and leaders of both branches are prepared for the call.

The Interstate Commerce Commission unanimously refused to grant permission to the railroads to increase their freight rates 10 per cent. in all the territory north of the Ohio river. The decision is of the utmost importance.

To dispel any feeling of unrest which might have arisen following talk of annexation in the American Congress in connection with reciprocity, the Canadian Parliament formally affirmed loyalty to Great Britain in a resolution offered by a member of the French National party.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 22.—Dominic Bezold, a Kentucky lad of nineteen years, sacrificed forty inches of skin from his arms, legs and body to save the life of his brother, Joseph Bezold, at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Seven weeks ago the latter was injured in a gasoline explosion at the plant of the Kruse Hardware Company, where he was employed, the entire front of his body from the shoulders to the knees being terribly burned. His life was despaired of, but he rallied. Then came the period when fresh skin must be transplanted in order to heal his terrible wounds, and his younger brother eagerly made the sacrifice, great strips being taken from his arms and legs. The doctors say both will be able to leave the hospital in a week.

Director Dana E. Durand has submitted to Secretary Nagel, of the department of commerce and labor, his report concerning the operations of the bureau of the census during the year 1909-10.

It is known that the entire cost of the field work on population and agriculture in continental United States was about $5,855,500. In 1909 the cost was $4,267,334.

A four-eared pig belonging to Joe Robinson, of near Somerset, is the latest monstrosity in that section. The two front ears are perfect in form and droop toward over the eyes, while the other two, which are about an inch back of the front ones, are about an inch and a half in width and point upward. A fifth ear in between these has just begun to grow.

At Richmond, Ky., a mare belonging to J. R. Azell, a liveryman, gave birth to a mule colt having two perfect heads, four perfect front feet, and two back bones tapering at the hips into only two hind legs. With the hind quarters as perfect as in any ordinary mule. The colt was born alive, but lived only a few seconds.

Delegate James Wickersham, of Alaska, and Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, engaged in a flatstick on the floor of the House following the passing of the bill by the latter during a debate on the Alaskan leasing bill. The move was carried to the floor to restore order. Both members apologized to the House. Mr. Mondell said the bill was not given direct, but that he turned to a fellow member and said: "Then he must be a liar."

Owingsville, Ky.—The big headlines special from Lexington says that the home of a Bath county tobacco grower was dynamited. It is said to be untrue.

There is no trouble in this county over tobacco, and the growers are preparing to raise tobacco this year. They claim there is no substitute crop that will bring them the money equal to tobacco, even at present prices. It is said there will not be a large acreage planted.

Cordele, Ga., Feb. 23.—Chief of Police Sumner returned today from Worth county, where he had a narrow escape from being blown to pieces in a peculiar accident. He says that a farmer named Strieblin-ger had some very valuable swine and desired him (the chief) to see the drove.

One of the finest "porkers" in the bunch was sound asleep and refused to get up. The farmer kicked the pig in the ribs and there was an explosion that took the chief of police of his feet, knocked the farmer down and blew out the side of the building. Incidentally, it killed the pig.

The farmer later discovered that a quantity of dynamite that he had hidden under the pen for blasting purposes had been eaten by his pig.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 24.—An exciting echo of the feud days in Breathitt county came this morning when Ed Callahan, sheriff under Judge Jas. Hargis' regime, and Alex Hargis, brother of James Hargis, and former state senator, had a slight difficulty on the Lexington and Eastern train, which comes here from Jackson, Kentucky.

The men quarreled over a debt. A warrant was issued for Callahan by Hargis when the train arrived here and he was arrested. Neither man was injured. Callahan and Hargis were both long since acquitted of any guilt in the Breathitt county feuds.

Callahan and Judge Hargis were accused of having B. D. Cox, James Cockrill and James H. Marcum assassinated. Since Alex Hargis was legally declared to have had no hand in feud affairs, he has been living quietly here and a Jackson. Callahan has had considerable trouble since his acquittal, having been shot and wounded by an assassin concealed near his home on one occasion. Callahan will be tried this afternoon.

Many requests from Catarrh sufferers who use autometers have caused us to put up Liquid Cream Balm, a new and convenient form of Ely's Cream Balm, the only remedy for Catarrh which can be depended on.

In power to allay inflammation, to cleanse the clogged air passages, to promote free, natural breathing, the two forms of Cream Balm are alike.

Liquid Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 75 cents, including spraying tube. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

TERRYVILLE.

On February 24th, 1911, at the residence of E. H. Skaggs, Parish Sparks and Margaret Skaggs were united in the bonds of matrimony by Justice of the Peace C. C. Holbrook, at three o'clock p. m. Mr. Sparks is the son of Menefee Sparks, a prosperous farmer of this place. Miss Skaggs is the daughter of E. H. Skaggs, a prosperous farmer of this place. The beautiful bride was dressed in white silk with over lace to match and white slippers. The groom was faultlessly dressed in a suit of dark green. They were married in the presence of only a few of their many friends. The bride was the loveliest and most attractive bride that was ever beheld by the writer and the groom never looked better. As they wished a very quiet affair, after the impressive ceremony was performed the bride and groom with the bride's father and mother and with a few of their intimate friends went to the home of the groom, where a most bountiful supper was in waiting. The contracting parties start well in life and have the best wishes of the whole community.

Thos. Holbrook has moved to C. C. Holbrook's.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Riggsby, a fine boy, christened John Okrey. Mr. Riggsby will move to Menefee Sparks' soon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons were visiting their granddaughter Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Vicy Skaggs was visiting her daughter-in-law last week.

George Kasee passed by here recently. He has been spending a few days with his mother at Drake.
